Summary: ACLA is working with Exact Sciences to send Cologuard® kits to members for colorectal cancer screening. Members on your panel may receive a Cologuard kit from Exact Sciences.

AmeriHealth Caritas Louisiana is working with Exact Sciences to send Cologuard® kits to our members to screen for colorectal cancer. These at-home screening kits are distributed as part of an effort to support early detection and prevention of colorectal cancer.

Key Points:

- Eligible members may receive the kit directly at their home along with instructions for sample collection and return. The kits were shipped in July.
- You may receive Cologuard® test results from Exact Sciences for our members because of this program.
- Encourage follow-up on abnormal test results per clinical guidelines, including scheduling follow-up colonoscopies. Treating providers are responsible for clinical decisions.
